Ideal for late model performance sports cars and light trucks

ANSA Automotive presents a new Silverline™ Universal Tip that is an ideal upgrade for popular Toyota applications like the Matrix, Camry and Tacoma. Manufactured of T304 stainless steel that is triple chrome-plated, this tip is able to withstand high levels of heat, providing resistance to "blueing" that is often associated with aluminized or lower quality stainless steel tips. With its versatile design and larger inlet, this tip is also suited for domestic sports cars and late model gas truck applications where limited clearance is an issue.
