

Illumaware, LLC Releases Evokat ACES Version 2.0

by Ralph Bowen, Business Development

Illumaware, LLC officially released version 2.0 of Evokat ACES, its online electronic catalog on April 24, 2008 during live demonstrations for several of their top clients. Over fifty new features have been added to this cataloging tool, including:

- Increased data processing speed, by a factor of ten fold, stemming from the introduction of a new Vehicle Research component.

- Simplified navigation capabilities that better meet the research requirements of Catalog Managers.

- The ability to map multiple parts to multiple vehicles at the same time.

- An Analyze My Catalog feature that runs data against the latest ACES standard for Unmapped Records, Conflicting Records, and Specific Condition Errors.

Catalog Managers now know the "health" of their catalog at all times. The manager's team can correct these problems online themselves. Only "good" records that meet the current ACES standard can be sent to Channel Partners.

- A large library of Channel Partners from Illumaware's free Data Network allow Catalog Managers to send their Legacy, ACES, PIES, Year/Make/Model, and Custom reports out in real time with a click of a button.
