His big passion these days is collecting and selling oil company and auto memorabilia, plus old performance parts on eBay. I ran into Bill Smith of Speedway Motors at the Hershey swap meet. Looking back, Raleigh knows he made a lasting effect on the industry. "I'm proud of my PWA accomplishments. We were needed and we helped shape an industry that's worth billions of dollars today and employees hundreds of thousand of people. PWA and the PWA Conference are still vital today. They've come a long way."

Thanks to Don Raleigh, PWA's journey continues.
