

2006 Person of the Year

The Person of the Year Award is in recognition of Chris' outstanding contributions to the warehouse distributors and in appreciation of his conscientious dedication as an individual member of the specialty equipment industry.

Chris Thomson

A native of Phoenix, Chris' automotive aftermarket experience includes tenure with such notable companies as Mr. Gasket, Flowtech and Holley Performance. Now he is the National Sales Manager for AIRAID Filter Company. He has taken great pride in helping AIRAID grow from a fledgling manufacturer to winning back-to-back titles of MRC Sales Team of the year in 2004 and 2005. AIRAID, a progressive, energetic company, encourages him to participate in our industry's leadership.

His dedication to the industry has led him to serve SEMA as a member of the MPMC Select, Diesel Marketing Task Force, Rep of the Year and WD of the Year committees. He has worked all sides of the industry from warehousing to retail and wholesale sales to manufacturing understanding the common goals and challenges we all share. It was an honor for him to be nominated for the PWA Person of the Year Award.